If Tom Reed is not remembered as a great legislator, he will be honored for making legislation possible in the popular branch of Congress.

EDITOR Stone's Grayson Leader has a heap of mighty good prose and a little mighty bad poetry, but his readers shouldn't shoot him for his poetry, yet. He just recently joined the quilldrivers.

The Seventh Senatorial District Committee will meet at Beaver Dam, Monday, December 15, for the purpose of determining the time and manner of holding a convention to nominate a candidate for State Senator.

JUDGE Miller and Esquire Martin are favorable to a more practical and sensible system of working our roads. We are not advised as to the views on the question of the other Justices, but if your Justice does not favor a better system for road working, you should urge upon him the importance of the question before the January term.

COL. C. M. BARNETT is in Washington this week and the Courier-Journal's irresponsible Washington correspondent telegraphed that paper Sunday that Col. Barnett was to be ousted from the office of Surveyor of the Port and that Senator Deboe was to take his place, and when he found that nobody would take his fake story seriously enough to even deny it, he telegraphed his paper again that Col. Barnett would retain his office, but would resign the chairmanship of the State Central Committee. Mr. Barnett authorized the Herald-Commercial to say that he had no intention of resigning the chairmanship, and the Courier-Journal's correspondent turned his fake gun upon new game.

The suggestion of Col. C. M. Barnett for the Republican nomination for Governor next year, is being favorably discussed by the Republican leaders of the State, notwithstanding his positive statement that he is not a candidate. Col. Barnett's cautious and conservative course in politics has won for him the confidence of the party, and these are the very elements that should enter into the makeup of the Republican candidate for Governor. Notwithstanding he was the head of the Republican organization in the State, and the incumbent of an important Federal office through the stormiest period of the party's internal strife, he, by following the very profitable work of minding his own business, maintained the confidence and good will of each of the factions, and would, on this account, make the strongest candidate the Republicans could nominate next year. But it is another evidence of his fitness for such a candidacy, as well as a credit to his worth as a man, that he fittingly recognizes the generous recognition his party has shown him, and modestly declines to stand in the way of other worthy and deserving Republicans.

TINGO AND THE PRIMARY.

At the recent meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee that called the primary election to nominate candidates for State offices, candidate Ringo was in the middle of a very bad fix. Mr. Ringo belongs to the Goebel faction of the Democratic party—he signed a petition to Goebel to contest Taylor's election—and is necessarily for Beckham for the nomination for Governor. Beckham, being able to assess his appointees, can very well afford the expense of a $10,000 primary, which will force his opponents out, and wanted a primary.

Being an ex-officio member of the Beckham machine, Mr. Ringo was afraid to oppose Mr. Beckham's primary. He is himself a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney in a district in which lives Urey Woodson, member of the Democratic National Committee, personal friend of Bryan and editor of the only influential Democratic newspaper in the district, who is violently opposing Beckham's primary plan to fix the price so high for the nomination for Governor that nobody will be able to bid against him on the day of the sale, May 9, 1903, Ben was between the devil and the deep blue sea. It was a case of "be damned if you do and be damned if you don't."

But Ben proved himself a politician of that class that fly high and fall soon, by getting on both sides of the question. He told the Beckham crowd that he was heartily in favor of fixing the price so high that no other Democrat could afford to bid against Beckham for the nomination, if they would set the day of sale for July instead of May. His object was, of course, not to go on record in favor of the primary.

Now Mr. Ringo can say to the Beckham crowd, I told you fellows I was heartily in favor of the primary and voted against it only on account of the date it was fixed for, and would have voted for it anyhow had my vote been necessary to have carried the measure; and then you fellows are my friends, and know how Woodson is raining hell down there about the primary, and being a candidate, I can't afford to antagonize him, unless it was absolutely necessary to do so for Beckham to freeze out the other fellows. And he can say to Woodson, just look at the record and you will see I voted against calling the primary.

In fact, we give Mr. Ringo credit—that is, a certain kind of credit—for turning a pretty slick trick, but we doubt whether the voters of the district will be in favor of a slick trick-turner for Commonwealth's Attorney.

NO POOR MAN NEED APPLY.

A multiplicity of editors of the Hartford Herald, recently, is making that paper a little more ridiculous than usual. Last week Mr. Ringo did the editorial work, for that paper, and, notwithstanding, he, as a member of the Democratic State Central Committee, had voted against it, he made the Herald say that the State primary was the newest and best thing out, and that the Democrats everywhere were whooping wild in favor of it. But this week, our friend, Matthews, is back from his vacation, and he makes this same Herald weep floods of tears over the "disruption that has come into the Democratic party of Kentucky over the recent action of the State Central Committee in ordering a State primary."

Again, this Matthews Herald makes an admission the Ringo Herald would not make. It says:

"The primary is handicapped by the loss of the support of the Democratic party of Kentucky, and the consequent possibility of a majority vote being secured by the opposition."

Ah, there! No poor man need apply. What do the poor but honest Democrats of Kentucky think of this declaration from a paper that is supporting the call for the rich man's primary?

Party loyalty, party service, personal merit and fitness count for naught in the Democratic party, unless the possessor of all these merits is happily the possessor also of considerable means. Are the Democrats of Kentucky laying—in this primary—the foundation of a moneyed aristocracy to rule the Commonwealth? And are the honest but poor Democratic farmers and mechanics of Kentucky ready to accept such slavery? Are they willing to establish a precedent that will forever bar themselves and their descendants, who do not have the good fortune to accumulate considerable means, from holding offices of profit and honor in the proud old Commonwealth? We shall see.

Tom Reed Dead.

Thomas B. Reed, America's greatest legislator, who made legislation possible in the Lower House of Congress, died of Bright's disease at Washington, Sunday morning. His remains were taken to his old home at Portland, Maine, for interment.

In this issue of THE REPUBLICAN appears the announcement of Mr. F. L. Sandfur for the Republican nomination for Circuit Court Clerk. Mr. Sandfur is a very capable and deserving young man. He is well known to the Republicans of Ohio county, having made the race for the nomination for this office six years ago, when he came within a few votes of the nomination. Mr. Sandfur's well known fitness for the duties of the office, his study honesty and excellent character insure his election if the Republicans decide to make him their standard-bearer in the race for Circuit Court Clerk next year.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Cured Me.

When the nervous system has been shattered by the use of deadly drugs there is nothing to equal Dr. Miles' Nervine in restoring it to health and normal activity.

"I feel grateful for what Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine has done for me. I have suffered from nervous prostration for years. I had used every remedy known to me, but I never felt better until I had used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I feel it my duty to give it to the benefit of the suffering."—MATTIE PHILLIPS, Prescott, Ark.

Oh, the misery of being addicted to such a habit. I resolved then, and there to quit it, and resolved I would never be a slave to any such demon. About this time I happened to notice Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine advertised and ordered a bottle. After using five bottles I can truthfully say I am cured of using morphine. Now, however much persons may doubt it, God is my witness I am cured. This testimonial is unsolicited but I feel it my duty to give it to the benefit of the suffering."—MATTIE PHILLIPS, Prescott, Ark.

Read the announcement elsewhere in this issue of the candidacy of Mr. D. Baker Rhoads, of Beaver Dam, for the Republican nomination for State Senator. Mr. Rhoads is a well-known Republican, a gentleman of high character, and is well fitted for the duties of a legislator. Mr. Rhoads is an able young lawyer, and his familiarity with our laws and his defects would add much to his ability to serve the people in the upper house of the Kentucky Legislature. If the Republicans see cause to nominate Mr. Rhoads he will make an excellent candidate as well as a good legislator when elected.

The spring term of the West Kentucky Seminary, Beaver Dam, Ky., will open January 5, 1913, and continue five months. Superior advantages will be offered in High-school, Teachers', Commercial and Music courses. Special attention will be given those preparing for teacher's examination. Little Aubrey Dead.
Early Saturday morning the sweet, pure soul of little Aubrey Black felt upon its fevered cheek, the cooling kiss of God's conveying angel, and with it sped on wings of light and love to the guarded halls of its heavenly home.

Little Aubrey was the darling baby of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Black, and was about two years old. He died of heart trouble.

Having so recently stood sorrowfully amid the chilling shadows of the chamber of death we can join the heart bleeding parents in tears for their dead. And will say to them that in death's awful night when we, too, must cross that awful stream that those souls we loved and lost will stand upon that distant shore and hold aloft beacon lights to guide us unto God.

MAD DOGS

Bite Four People and Many Dogs in Ohio County.

Ohio county is having a mad dog scare that is becoming really alarming, and many people are in favor of a general dog killing.

About two weeks ago we reported the killing of a supposed mad dog at Centertown, but the incident excited little comment and was almost forgotten until Saturday morning when a rabid dog made its appearance in Hartford.

Early Saturday morning Mr. Wilbur Tinsley, a hardware dealer, was in S. T. Barnett & Co's meat shop when a strange dog entered the shop and made a furious attack on him. By vigorous use of his foot, the only assailing weapon convenient, Mr. Tinsley finally drove the infuriated dog from the shop, but not until after it had bitten him on the leg.

The dog next appeared at the residence of Mr. Frank Westfield, just out of town, on the Beaver Dam road, where it bit two of Mr. Westfield's children. Mrs. Westfield called upon her husband, who keeps a meat shop here, and told him of the incident, and said the dog had started back toward town. Marshal Paris and some other parties procured shot guns and started out to hunt the vicious dog. They found it lying on the pavement at Mr. J. H. Thomas' yard gate, and a few loads of shot soon put the dog out of the danger of further harm.

Monday morning Will Rogers, a farmer, living a few miles north of Dundee, was attacked by another mad dog, which inflicted a painful wound in his leg. The dog after biting Rogers came on through Dundee and Sulphur Springs, snapping all the dogs, hogs and other animals beings that came in its way, until about two miles this side of Sulphur Springs it met Peyton Sullenger, a negro, in the public road, and rushed upon him with the awful fury of its madness. Fortunately Sullenger carried a gun and killed the maddened brute before it could bite him.

Immediately after he was bitten, Rogers came to Hartford to consult the physicians in regard to his wound. Unfortunately the medical profession is powerless for the treatment of persons infected with rabies. One of our best physicians says the only hope for one into whose blood the deadly virus has found its way, is to go at once to the Pasteur Institute at Chicago. This terrible disease had been regarded as hopelessly incurable until about fifteen years ago when M. Pasteur, a now world famous, but then unknown Paris physician, discovered a treatment by inoculation, and founded the Pasteur Institute at Paris for the treatment of persons affected with rabies. On account of the very great expense of maintaining one of these Institutes, and the comparatively small number of patients who apply for treatment, these Institutions are not numerous in the world, and we believe that the Institute at Chicago is the only one in America.

Unlike the virus used for vaccination against smallpox, that used for the treatment of rabies will not keep, but must be propagated continuously in a living organism, and for this purpose a whole menagerie of monkeys is required each year.

It is claimed for the treatment, that all of the patients who begin the treatment at the Institute before the disease develops are cured, or rather that the development of the disease is prevented.

He Didn't Like It.

Mr. W. M. Fleener, a prosperous farmer living just above Cromwell, concluded last winter that the sun shone brighter and the birds sang sweeter in Oklahoma than in Kentucky, and he sold all his possessions and went out there in the spring to enjoy the sunshine and the song. But Mr. Fleener soon tired of sunshine and song and longed for his old home in Ohio county again, and wrote to Mr. R. B. Martin, asking what price he would make him on his old homestead which he had sold to Mr. Martin in January for $4,000. Mr. Martin wrote back "4,000." Within a few days the answer came back, "Make the deed, I'm coming." Mr. Fleener got back a few days ago, paid over the cash, and is now happy by his old fireside. Mr. Fleener is an excellent citizen and we welcome him back.

Pains in the Back

Are symptoms of a weak, torpid or stagnant condition of the kidneys or liver, and are a warning it is extremely hazardous to neglect, so important is a healthy action of these organs.

They are commonly attended by loss of energy, lack of courage, and sometimes by gloomy foreboding and despondency.

"I had pains in my back, could not sleep and when I got up in the morning felt worse than the night before. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and now I can sleep and get up feeling rested and able to do my work. I attribute my cure entirely to Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. J. N. Peasly, care H. S. Copeland, Pike Road, Ala.

Sick Blood

Feed pale girls on Scott's Emulsion.

We do not need to give all the reasons why Scott's Emulsion restores the strength and flesh and color of good health to those who suffer from sick blood.

The fact that it is the best preparation of Cod Liver Oil, rich in nutrition, full of healthy stimulation is a suggestion as to why it does what it does.

Scott's Emulsion presents Cod Liver Oil at its best, fullest in strength, least in taste.

Young women in their "teens" are permanently cured of the peculiar disease of the blood which shows itself in paleness, weakness and nervousness, by regular treatment with Scott's Emulsion.

It is a true blood food and is naturally adapted to the cure of the blood sickness from which so many young women suffer.

We will be glad to send a sample to any sufferer.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.
